

TWINSET

Connector Compensation

For the people who open doors — here's how you get paid.

The deal

You know artists we'd love on Twinset. If you open the door and it leads to a signed artist, you get paid — and it costs the artist nothing.

☐ Your reward comes from Twinset's side — never out of the artist's pay. The artist keeps their full deal. You get paid for the connection. Everybody wins.

Three ways to earn

1. Finder's fee (one-time intro)

Make a warm intro that leads to a signed artist → you get a finder's fee. Bigger artist = bigger fee. Anchor-level names = premium.

2. Ongoing residual (repeat / major connector)

Keep bringing artists — or bring a major one — and earn a small ongoing percentage of what that artist generates. A "sourced-by" residual, paid from Twinset's cut.

3. Partner role (all-in)

Opening doors constantly and repping the brand? Become a formal partner — bounties now, growing into an ongoing role.

How it works

1. You open the door (make the intro).
2. The artist sees the business + how they get paid + hears a demo.
3. They're interested → Twinset + the attorney handle the specific deal.
4. You get your finder's fee when they sign. Clean and simple.

You don't negotiate anything. You just connect the right people — and get paid for it.

The rules

- Your reward is always from Twinset's cut — the artist's pay is never touched.

- Exact fee/residual terms are put in writing before anything's promised.
 - Every connection is logged, so credit is clear.

You know the people. We built the opportunity. Let's put them together — and everybody eats.

Twinset — built by the culture, for the culture.
